The NY Rising Community Reconstruction Program was created by Governor Cuomo to help communities impacted by Superstorm Sandy, Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee become more resilient and better prepared for future storms.

A committee of local residents and civic leaders from the Idlewild Watershed Communities is working with the Governor's Office of Storm Recovery to develop a Community Reconstruction Plan that will protect residents and businesses from future storms.

Public Engagement Event Objectives:

The Committee is looking for your ideas to:

- Develop Reconstruction Strategies to increase the Community's resilience.
- Brainstorm project ideas that should be evaluated for inclusion in the plan.
